

The 2005

ABEL
SYMPOSIUM

Stochastic Analysis and Applications

- A Symposium in Honor
of Kiyosi Itô's 90th Birthday

July 29th – August 4th
Oslo, Norway

Kiyosi Itô

Born: Sept. 7, 1915, Mie,
Japan

Professor Emeritus, Kyoto University.

*Doctor of Science, Tokyo
Imperial University*

*Honorary doctoral degrees:
Université Paris VI; ETH, Zurich;
University of Warwick*

*Memberships: Académie des
Sciences, France; Japan
Academy; National Academy of Sciences, USA*

Fellow at the Institute of Advanced Study, Princeton University 1954

My wife and daughters

Cornell University, 1978

Japan Academy and Imperial Prize, 1978

(with the Showa Emperor in the middle of the picture)

Kleine Scheidegg, Eiger, Switzerland, with my wife, 1983

Mississippi River, Minnesota, 1985

1995, Eightieth Birthday Lecture, Kyoto University

Celebration of the 2003 Japan Cultural Prize

At the Research Institute of Mathematical Sciences,
Kyoto University,
December 2003

The 2005

ABEL SYMPOSIUM

Stochastic Analysis and
Applications

- A Symposium in Honor
of Kiyosi Itô's 90th Birthday

July 29th – August 4th
Oslo, Norway